LONG LANE

Of Ruin For Ireland Seems To Have Reached Turning Point.

National Convention to Be Held in Dublin at Early Date.

Case of Farrell, Who is in Prison For Denouncing Land Grabbers.

EMERALD ISLE'S NEW PLANTATION

Each succeeding week Hon. T. P. O'Connor has something interesting to say on subjects dear to every Irishman. This week he has written as follows to the Chicago Tribune: Ireland's interest and excitement is in sharp contrast to the quietude in England. Already the clash of arms is heard in preparation for the great national convention which will decide the fate of Birrell's land bill. All feel that Ireland is approaching the great turning point in its history and Birrell's land bill, if passed, closes forever the dark period through which the land has been struggling.

The landlords are in an unholy alliance against the bill, and O'Brien is charging Birrell and Dillon with the extraordinary purpose to strangle the land purchase with a saner criticism, denounce the bill as a surrender to Rednecks, and the cattle drivers. The English newspapers are beginning to be filled with long letters from the Irish landlords in another attempt to destroy Birrell by portentous lying. The struggle to restore to the people the land now held by cattle drivers abolishes the relics of landlordism on reasonable terms and gives to the congested districts in the West gigantic subsidies for improvement and purchase.

It is the first real chance for a resurrection from the present wretchedness and the Irish party is practically unanimous for the bill with the exception of O'Brien, and he figures on disorders in Ireland. If the landlords, encouraged by O'Brien and the possibility of a near election and a Tory triumph, hold out, then indeed disaster will come. It is Ireland's fierce desire to be done finally with landlordism and the ranches and if Parliament will not do it, she will do it herself.

Mr. O'Connor predicts a general election in the United Kingdom within two years at least. Of course this means a dissolution of the present Parliament before that time. And he says that if the Irish party is concerned, it would welcome a dissolution the first moment the bill of Birrell, finally disposing of the land question, was passed into law. That bill has many enemies, it is true; no one of which is more determined to imperil its fortunes unfortunately than Mr. William O'Brien. He persists in seeing in the provisions of the Wyndham act the one way out of the land problem, but in that opinion he stands alone among Irish Nationalists, though, of course, the Wyndham act, with its ultra favorable terms to the landlords, is naturally also the ideal of the whole landlord party in both Ireland and the House of Lords. Such an act is, in fact, a repetition, and both Mr. O'Brien and the landlords will have a rude awakening if they defeat Birrell's bill in the hope of getting such a measure as a substitute. Mr. O'Brien gave the hint to the landlords, and especially to the House of Lords, to reject Birrell's bill in the certainty that there should be a general election and a Tory majority in the course of a year or two.

Speaking of J. P. Farrell, the Irish member of Parliament now in jail for denouncing land grabbers, Mr. O'Connor says he is a determined and courageous fellow, but unfortunately in bad health. Of course he can get out of jail any moment he likes by giving promise not to repeat the offense with which he is charged; but such promise is not likely to be given. The case is a good specimen of what is going on all over Ireland in those awful times. It is some comfort that Irish men of this generation are living to see the complete reversal of all that bad and wicked past. The Estates Commissioners all over Ireland are buying up these cleared lands and are reselling them to the tenants. The tenants are therefore taking the place of the bullocks.

Under Birrell's new bill this process will be accelerated. Here and there the old spirit of greed is inducing men to put themselves in position to this generation are living to see the complete reversal of all that bad and wicked past. The Estates Commissioners all over Ireland are buying up these cleared lands and are reselling them to the tenants. The tenants are therefore taking the place of the bullocks.

who in the '40s took advantage of the prostration of Ireland under the awful calamities of hunger and plague to drive her people from their home to exile abroad.

We are now witnessing the new plantation of Ireland, different from the old plantations in this: that it is the planting forever in the soil of the old Irish race and not their expulsion and substitution by the alien from other lands. Which it is worth living to see.

WITH THE SICK.

Three Well Known Men Who Have Been Seriously Ill.

Three well known citizens have been seriously ill during the present week, but each is now believed to be out of danger. Bernard A. Coll, one of Jeffersonville's most esteemed citizens and popular business men, was taken seriously ill late last week, and for a time it was thought an operation for appendicitis would be necessary. Fortunately his condition improved rapidly, and he is now able to be out.

Last Friday night Al Kolb was seized with an attack of acute indigestion at his home on West Green street, near Fourth, and for a time his life was despaired of. He rallied the next day, however, and is improving slowly.

James Kinarey, a former Captain of police, is confined to his home on Broadway, near Clay street, with a serious attack of typhoid fever. At last accounts his condition showed little signs of improvement.

NEW RECTOR.

Rev. Father P. M. J. Rock Is Head of Cathedral Parish.

Catholics in every part of the city will welcome the news that the Rev. Father P. M. J. Rock has been appointed pastor of the Cathedral parish by the Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey. His assistants will be the Rev. Fathers D. F. Gallagher and Eugene Donahue.

Father Rock, in point of service, is one of the senior priests of Louisville as well as of the entire diocese. He is the type of priest that does not believe his education is ended when he leaves the seminary. As pastor of St. Cecilia's church, during his long service as an assistant priest at the Cathedral, Father Rock has ever been a student. Those who are competent judges declare that he has the most thorough knowledge of canon law of any priest in the diocese.

His new duties will no doubt interrupt his studies to a certain extent, but Father Rock has always been faithful to his vow of obedience; he bows to the will of his Bishop, and does all in his power for the greater honor and glory of God.

CONSECRATION

Of Bishop Owen B. Corrigan Was Made Solemn Function.

The Right Rev. Owen B. Corrigan was consecrated Bishop-Titular of Macra and Bishop-Auxiliary to His Eminence Cardinal Gibbons, Archbishop of Baltimore, last Sunday morning. Archbishop Farley, of New York, and the Right Rev. Benjamin J. Keiley, Bishop of Savannah, Cardinal Gibbons also celebrated the Pontifical high mass. The Rev. Dr. William T. Russell, of Washington, D. C., preached the sermon. Archbishop Farley, of New York, and thirteen other members of the American hierarchy occupied thrones in the sanctuary. The vast edifice was crowded with the laity of Baltimore. Bishop Corrigan is highly esteemed in the ecclesiastical world. The funeral took place from St. Patrick's church Sunday afternoon. Mr. Bott was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

ACCIDENT'S VICTIM.

John F. Bott, thirty-one years old and a popular member of the community, fell a victim to a peculiar accident on Thursday last week and thereby lost his life. Mr. Bott was helping to remove a piano from a wagon to the sidewalk, when the instrument fell upon him, inflicting injuries that caused his death. The young man was removed to the home of his father-in-law, Henry A. Beyer, 1531 West Main street, but died soon after. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Bott, and two children. The funeral took place from St. Patrick's church Sunday afternoon. Mr. Bott was highly esteemed by all who knew him.

MAKES MANY MOURN.

St. Cecilia's parish lost one of its most beloved young ladies by the death of Miss Mollie Lawler, who passed away at the residence of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lawler, 2430 St. Xavier street, on Thursday afternoon of last week. The deceased was born in Louisville thirty-five years ago, and all her life had been spent in working for the church, the sick, the poor and distressed. Besides her parents she is survived by one sister, Miss Julia Lawler, and three brothers, James, Michael D. and Eugene Lawler. The funeral took place from St. Cecilia's church Saturday morning, and many sorrowing friends followed the remains to their last resting place in St. Louis cemetery.

AUSPICIOUS

Was Opening For Central Committee, C. K. of A., Held Last Week.

President Schalda Makes Brief Announcement of His Plans.

Committees Named and Reports Heard From Many Branches.

FINE FEAST FOR THE FINALE

The Central Committee of the Catholic Knights of America held its annual reunion and installation of officers at St. Mary's Hall on Friday night of last week. The hall was thronged as never before. President McGinn occupied the chair and every branch in the Falls Cities was represented. On behalf of the membership committee Harry Veeneman reported that a number of additions to the order were in prospect. After the usual routine business had been disposed of and all the bills outstanding having been ordered paid, Supreme Delegate Veeneman and State Secretary Meehan installed the new officers in an impressive manner.

President John Schalda was given a rousing cheer when conducted to his chair. When called upon for a speech he said he wanted it understood that during his administration all meetings of the committee would begin promptly and conclude as speedily as the necessary business could be dispatched. He also admonished the delegates to cut their addresses short and to the point. President Schalda then announced the following committee chairmen: Entertainment—William M. Higgins.

Membership—Harry Veeneman, East End; Thomas Feely, West End. Ritual—William T. Meehan.

Employment—Joseph P. McGinn and Gen. Gus Kane. The complete minutes will be announced at the next meeting. Resolutions were adopted thanking President McGinn and the other officers for their labors during the past year. Short talks were made by Vice President Charles J. Desse, Secretary Kruse, Treasurer Feely, Ben Beckman, Charles Hill and Capt. John B. Murphy, of Jeffersonville.

Branch 4 reported through Delegate Thomas Feely one new application. President Frank reported in behalf of Branch 6 one new member. He said that all were prompt in meeting their obligations. Branch 6 will install its officers on the night of Wednesday, January 20, and will adjourn early in order to attend the euchre to be given by Branch 642. On the following Tuesday evening Branch 642 will install its officers.

On behalf of Branch 23 President Meehan announced the loss of one member by death. The deceased, he said, had paid $800 to the order in twenty-six years, and his family would receive $2,000 benefit. Mr. Meehan also told how his branch was allowing premiums for new members. One new member and five in prospect were reported from Branch 32. Charles Hill reported one application from Branch 45. Branch 642 announced three applications and several others in prospect.

Branch 54 of Jeffersonville reported that Delegate John Kenney had secured twenty-four applications during the past six months. Mr. Kenney was congratulated and made a splendid talk on the benefits connected with membership in the Catholic Knights of America.

The Trustees, Capt. John B. Murphy and Charles J. Desse, reported that they had examined the books of Treasurer Falk, and had found them correct, well kept and a balance in the treasury. Harry Veeneman invited all to attend Branch 642's euchre on January 20, and the installation of officers.

After the business session ended the members adjourned to partake of a bounteous spread prepared in an adjoining room by Henry Humold. The feast was thoroughly enjoyed.

MACKIN COUNCIL

Shows Splendid Fiscal Report For the Year Just Closed.

A splendid attendance greeted the new officers of Mackin Council last Tuesday night, many members having to travel miles through snow to attend the meeting. President Louis Kieffer presided like a veteran. One new member was elected, and the following committee reported: John Krakel, Andrew Schlager and Al Kolb improving; that D. J. Hummel was seriously ill and would have to submit to an operation on the following day.

President Kieffer announced the following standing committees for the ensuing year:

Arbitration—John T. Kenny, Chas. S. Raily, Frank G. Adams, Patrick T. Sullivan and Thomas D. Cline.

Employment—Ben J. Sand, Samuel Robertson, Charles H. Schuh, Thomas H. Hayden and Thomas Henley.

Gymnasium—Robert T. Burke, Thomas Bachman, Leo Herter, Adolphus Andriott and Patrick Duddy.

Investigation—Lawrence Kinsella, John Lynn and C. J. Walker. Collector—George Simons.

Delegates to Catholic Federation—Camden McAttee, Sebastian Hubbuch, Walter Adams, Andy Kast, Thomas Keenan, Jr., Tyler Charlton, James Markey, Frank Lananah, Robert Weiland and J. Guy Nevin.

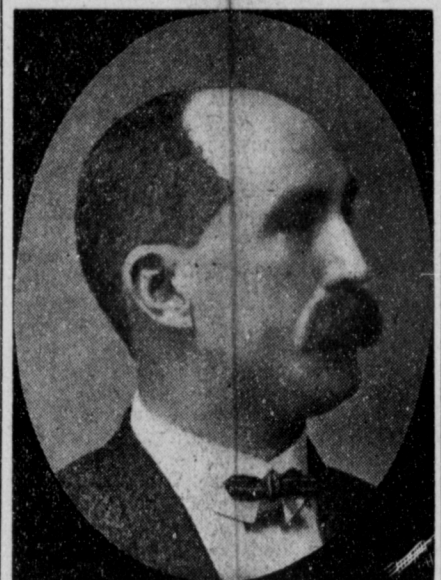

Reports of the fiscal officers showed that $4,890 had been received by Mackin Council during 1908; that nearly $1,000 had been expended for sick and death benefits and other charities, but that after all bills had been paid the treasury had developed an increase of $1,300 over the previous year. Treasurer Dan Weber was congratulated on his splendid report.

The council accepted an invitation to attend the Gallagher Club's minstrel show in New Albany, which was repeated last Wednesday and Thursday nights. An invitation from the Rev. Father Felton to attend the minstrel show for the benefit of St. Augustine's church on the nights of February 17 and 18 was also accepted.

HONORS MARTIN.

Made Second Highest Officer in Young Men's Institute.

Albert F. Martin, of this city, formerly President of Trinity Council and Past Grand President of the Kentucky Jurisdiction, has been appointed Deputy Supreme President of the Y. M. I. The appointment was made known to Mr. Martin in a letter received from Supreme President L. E. Mahan, of Eureka, Cal., a few days ago. In writing of the appointment Supreme President Mahan said: "Let us set 20,000 as our mark and endeavor to reach that number in membership during the next two years. We can do it if we will work all together, and I have no doubt you will do your part. I hope to hear from you often regarding the condition of affairs in your district, and any suggestion you have to offer from time to time will be thankfully received."

The appointment came to Mr. Martin entirely unlooked for, but is nevertheless appreciated by him and his friends. As a special agent of the Louisville & Nashville Railroad Company Mr. Martin travels all over the Kentucky Jurisdiction, and can readily keep in touch with the conditions at each point. As Deputy Supreme President he is head of the Y. M. I. in Kentucky, and his many friends are congratulating him on his new honor.

NICE AFFAIR.

Banquet Followed Routine When Hibernians Installed Officers.

Division 1, A. O. H., of Paris, has installed the following officers: F. V. Roche, President; Pat Kane, Vice President; M. Flanagan, Treasurer; George Doyle, Financial Secretary; F. S. Elder, Recording Secretary; Thomas Kane, Sergeant-at-Arms. President Roche has appointed the following committee: M. Flanagan, B. J. Brannon and John Connell.

Literary—Prof. Costello, William Grannan and George Doyle. Finance—M. J. Lavin, George Doyle and John McCarthy.

After the installation Wednesday night of last week the members sat down to a sumptuous banquet, and that peerless entertainer of the Bourbon county capital, Prof. Costello, presided as toastmaster. A vote of thanks was given Thomas Lenahan and Joseph Higgins, who had arranged the banquet.

FRIENDLY SONS' OFFICERS.

The annual meeting and election of officers of the Friendly Sons of St. Patrick of Cincinnati will be held this evening at the Havlin Hotel. Under the rule President John J. Gilligan will then retire in favor of another member, who will preside at the social sessions and banquet of 1909.

COLORED ORPHANS' HOME.

The excellent work done by the Sisters of the Good Shepherd for the colored orphans has necessitated the erection of additional quarters, and to that end a site has been secured at the southwest corner of Eighth and Walnut streets. The property was transferred this week from the Board of Trustees of the O'Leary Home to the Right Rev. Bishop McCloskey. The site includes a building on a lot 70x106 feet. Many improvements will be necessary before the building will be adequate for the purpose to which it is destined.

GENEROUS.

Local Divisions of the Hibernians and Auxiliary Give to Italians.

Grand Order Has Long Record of Bounteous Charity in Wake.

In Sickness, Death and Suffering Men and Women Give Aid.

SOME OF THE MANY CHARITIES

Each of the four local divisions of the Ancient Order of Hibernians has donated $25 to the people of Italy and Sicily who suffered from the recent earthquake. Division 1 was the first to respond to the appeals made by National President Matthew Cummings and State President George J. Butler. In all probability the division would have contributed even if the appeals had not been made. The other divisions followed the example of Division 1 on their respective meeting nights. The money will go through the regular channels of the State and national officers until it reaches Archbishop O'Connell, of Boston, National Chaplain of the order. His Grace will forward it to the proper authorities in Rome, who will see that it is properly distributed among the stricken ones in Italy and Sicily. The Ladies' Auxiliary, too, was generous according to its means, and made its contribution of $100,000 to the Italian Consul in Louisville.

The four divisions and the Ladies' Auxiliary have given largely in charity and in sick and death benefits during the past year, as they have in former years, and men who know declare the Ancient Order of Hibernians has given more in charity during the past twenty years than any Catholic fraternal society in the United States. Within the past twenty years the order expended for educational and charitable purposes the magnificent sum of $1,803,302. Of this $714,156 went for sick benefits and funeral expenses. In donations to churches, schools and orphan asylums $4,811,146 was spent, and $10,000 each from the divisions of the order was given to the $50,000 that was given to found a chair of Irish in the Catholic University at Washington. The Johnstown, Charleston, Kansas City and Galveston flood and earthquake sufferers received $10,000 each from the Hibernians, and the splendid sum of $44,000 went to those who suffered by the earthquake and fire in San Francisco. The Gaelic League in Ireland has received $15,000 from the order, and in 1908 the sum of $1,000 was sent to those who suffered from famine in the West of Ireland. It contributed $10,000 toward fitting an ambulance corps for the Boers in their war against British oppression a few years ago. The Ladies' Auxiliary gave $10,000 to found a scholarship at Trinity College.

Only recently the Hibernians contributed $5,000 to the erection of a monument to be erected at Gross Point, Newfound, in memory of Irish fever ship famine victims. They have also given recently the splendid sum of $20,000 to the Catholic Church Extension Society, and it is estimated that not less than $10,000 has been expended in purchasing Irish histories for parochial schools.

The Ladies' Auxiliary, though not as large as the Hibernians and not as well off financially, has aided according to its means in all of these works of charity. Irishmen and women everywhere are proud of these two truly fraternal and Catholic charitable organizations, and many priests and Bishops consider the Hibernian order the right arm of the church.

CLANS WILL MEET

When the Catholic Knights Give Euchre, Lotto and Dance.

Branch 642, C. K. of A., often called St. Michael's branch, will give its first grand lotto, euchre and dance at Trinity Council's club house, Baxter avenue and Morton, next Wednesday evening. Both the upper and lower halls will be used. Many handsome prizes have been offered for the lotto and euchre games, and an excellent orchestra has been secured for the dance.

President Harry A. Veeneman, Secretary Ben Kruse, Col. Joseph P. McGinn, James Welsh and William Cushing are members of the committee arranging for the event.

While not the oldest, branch St. Michael's is one of the oldest and best balanced in the city. It has provided for many widows and orphans, its delegates have been regular in attendance at meetings of the Central Committee, and its officers have always been capable and efficient.

It is not too much to expect that Branch 642 will have as guests delegates from each of the other branches in the Falls Cities.

AGED MAN'S FALL.

Michael D. Hogan, one of the oldest Irish-Americans in Louisville, though not an old resident of the city, fell on the ice covered pavement Monday and sustained a fracture of his left hip. He was removed to the residence of his son, Michael Hogan, Christy avenue, near Baxter, where he is now resting as comfortably as possible under the circumstances. Mr. Hogan is eighty years old, and is fond of God's sunlight and fresh air. Four years ago he suffered a similar accident and sustained a broken bone on the right hip. His remarkable constitution and will power may possibly bring him through his present crisis, and all his friends hope for his speedy recovery.

LONG ILLNESS

Ends in Death of Michael W. Logan, a Popular Citizen.

Many residents of Louisville expressed sincere sorrow Wednesday when they learned of the death of Michael W. Logan, a veteran Irish-Catholic, steamboatman, Democrat and public servant. Death occurred after an illness extending over a period of eight years, but for the past two years he had been unable to assume any active duties. He died at his home, on Thirty-third street, between Missouri and Rudd avenues.

Mike Logan was born in Louisville fifty-four years ago, and received his education in the Catholic schools. He was bright, intelligent and quick witted. At an early age he was employed as a clerk on steamboats plying between Pittsburgh and New Orleans. After nearly twenty years of service on the river he was appointed a deputy in the Back Tax Collector's office in Louisville. Later he served as deputy in the City Tax Receiver's office, City Assessor's office and as one of the deputies under Jailer John R. Pfanz.

His wife, who was Miss Lizzie Dunn, died about eight years ago. Four children, all minors, survive him. They are Graham and Joseph Logan and Misses Lillie and Estelle Logan.

The funeral took place from the Church of Our Lady, of Portland, on Friday morning and was largely attended. The Rev. Father James J. Coniff celebrated the requiem mass, and while admonishing the living, did not fail to eulogize the character of Michael W. Logan.

APPEALS ANSWERED.

Division 4 Acts Promptly on Request of Visiting Officers.

Inclement weather caused a falling off in the attendance of Division 4, A. O. H., Monday night, but what was lacking in numbers was made up in enthusiasm. President John H. Hennessy occupied the chair. Application for membership was made by Stephen C. Dooney and Pat O'Hearn. William J. Reardon and Michael Ruhan were reported ill, but Charles Callahan, who had been on the sick list, was reported as fully restored to health.

State President George J. Butler and County President P. J. Welsh were present and each made an appeal for the Italian earthquake sufferers. Division 4 promptly donated $25 just as the other divisions had done. County President Welsh installed Treasurer Harry Brady, who was unable to be present when the joint installation was held on the first Sunday in January.

State President Butler made a brief address, in which he told how the order was increasing in the State, and of the efforts that were being made to introduce the study of Irish history in the parochial schools. County President P. J. Welsh announced that the meeting of the County Board would be held Tuesday night of next week and with Division 1 at Falls City Hall.

HEALTHY SHOWING

Made by Knights of Columbus at Quarterly Board Meeting.

The National Board of Directors of the Knights of Columbus has completed its quarterly meeting at New Haven, Conn., and on Tuesday reports of the proceedings were given to the press. The board voted to omit the April assessment on account of the splendid condition of the order's finances.

Members were advised to continue to contribute to the support and relief of the Italian earthquake sufferers. All sums are requested to be sent to Monsignor Falconio, the Apostolic Delegate at Washington, D. C. It was decided to take $100,000 from the mortuary relief fund for investment. The gross assets of the order showed an increase of $400,000 over last year.

ANOTHER CHURCH EDIFICE.

The Marion County Leader says the Rev. Father Harding, pastor of the church at Campbellsville, and who administered the church at Calvary for a season, is preparing to establish a church and parochial school near Phillipsburg in the near future. The section of the country round Phillipsburg is unsupplied with school and church privileges, and this work of Father Harding will come as a boon to Catholics there.

POPE BLESSES AMERICANS.

"America always first," was the exclamation of Pope Pius X. last Sunday when he received Archbishop Ireland in final audience. His Holiness expressed to the Archbishop his admiration of and gratitude to the American people for the prominent part they are taking in aid of the Italian earthquake sufferers, and His Grace to convey the Apostolic benediction to the American people.

STABBED.

Aldermanic Board Kills the Telephone Ordinance in Embryo.

Mayor Grinstead Scored by a Member of the Board Considering.

Secret Service Fund to Be Increased to Provide More Ugly Spies.

ADVERTISING FOR BIDS CEASES

Sad, silent and dark are the tears that are being shed by a few faithful followers over the political grave of Mayor Grinstead. Even his former Republican adherents have helped pitch him into the pit he had dugged himself. The telephone ordinance with its attack of appendicitis caused his political death. An autopsy revealed that the Kirwan amendment had lodged in his political verniform appendix.

Mayor Grinstead may be consoling himself with the idea that he repeats itself. He may be likening himself unto Julius Caesar, who was stabbed by the Senators of Rome, but Caesar Grinstead "got his" before the onset of March. Cassius Reed and Brutus Underhill helped in the destruction of Mayor Grinstead. But there was no Marc Antony! Somebody had to play Marc, and Alderman Tracy Underhill undertook the task. He forgot his history, though, and instead of praising the dead Caesar, gave him an entire castigation. Of course castigation will not hurt a dead man, though it may hurt the aspirations of some of his kinsmen and followers. Marc Antony Underhill did not show the garments of the dead Caesar written on, as the different trusts made by the various Senators, but he described Mayor Grinstead as a mariner who trims his sails to every wind, no matter whether they blow from north, south, east or west. Calus Curie, Ridiculous Heyburn thought that the new Marc Antony had fallen down on his knees, and in an attempt to prompt and correct him jumped on Aaron Kohn and stated boldly that anybody who differed from him did it through lack of ignorance. Thereupon Aldermen Ashcraft, Hess, Horn, Reed, Reichert and Underhill confessed their ignorance by voting in opposition to Mr. Heyburn. The Mayor's trouble came up over Mayor Grinstead's ordinance, which provided, according to his ideas, for "a comprehensive, regulated telephone system" for the city of Louisville.

Mr. Underhill showed that Mayor Grinstead had first avowed the ordinance; that he had called all the Aldermen together and pressed it on them; that later he saw a new light and favored an amendment. Then he showed that the Mayor did not want the ordinance passed, either as it was originally written, or as amended. As a matter of fact the Mayor and Aldermen seems more interested in telephone legislation than are the ordinary citizens and telephone patrons.

The city administration made the claim several months ago that it would have money for the city by having certain street improvements made under the jurisdiction of the Board of Public Works instead of letting it to the highest bidder. The city is crushing its own neck for street improvements now at a cost of $1.65 per yard, when contractors formerly furnished it to the city for ninety-five cents a yard. The crushing of stone is not the only instance in which the city citizens are being duped by the Board of Public Works. If bids are advertised for according to law the city will not fall short in getting what is coming to it.

Councilman Isadore Forst jumped all over the proposed appropriation of $2,500 for the Mayor's secret service fund, and the people believe he was right. Formerly the Mayor of Louisville had a secret service fund of $1,000. Last year it was raised to $2,000, and now an attempt has been made to make it still higher. Is this another Rooseveltian idea? Is Mayor Grinstead following in the wake of the President of the United States? The Mayor's administration are honeycombed with spies now, and every man's eyes and ears are trained against his brothers.

The Louisville Evening Post has championed the cause of the present management of the Louisville Water Company, and declares that things may be better in 1912. Three years to wait! The Post says that the present management had to change the discount from 20 to 5 per cent, on account of mismanagement of the old Democratic officials. And yet Mayor Bingham started an investigation of the Louisville Water Company's affairs that cost the city quite a sum of money, and the investigation revealed that the water company's affairs had not been mismanaged.

"IF NEW AND TRUE."

The Evening Post on Monday in a labored editorial attacked the Kentucky Irish American for its criticism of the present buncie reform administration, and doubted that the truth was told in some of those criticisms. Right here it can be stated that the Kentucky Irish American has repeatedly published the notorious record of the Post's protegee, Police Captain Robert J. Foster, winner in the Post's popularity (?) contest and chief promoter of reform for the administration. We have scanned the Post's columns for a denial of this statement, but in vain.

The Kentucky Irish American has also published at different times how County Clerk Mark Gabhart, of the reform administration, was implicated in saloon brawls with no denial from the Post.

The Kentucky Irish American has also published from a copy of the Criminal Court records the story of a man indicted for highway robbery by the grand jury and appointed to the police force by the reform administration, with no contradiction by the reform administration's champion, the Evening Post.

The Kentucky Irish American has also published the record of Charles Lawrence, a street cleaning foreman under the reform administration, this man having shot another in the back, seriously cut another in a brawl and but recently swore out a warrant for one of our most respected school principals, subjecting her to much annoyance and humiliation, simply because she had reproved his children at school. We have failed to notice where the reform Post has denied this story.

The above are only a few of the many stories the Kentucky Irish American has published about the pseudo reformers in the City Hall and Court House, and furthermore, if the Evening Post is sincere in its daily statement of "If new and true," etc., it should investigate and verify or disprove, and the Kentucky Irish American will gladly assist in the search.

NO BIGOTRY HERE.

All non-Catholics are not as bigoted as the Lutheran ministers who denounced President-elect Taft and President Roosevelt. The American Israelite, a New York publication conducted by and for the Hebrews, refused to join issues with the Lutherans, and in refusing took occasion to say:

"The Israelite does not agree with the gentlemen and bodies mentioned in the foregoing insofar that it firmly believes that if a Roman Catholic were elected President of the United States he would do not a jot less than his full duty without even the least mental reservation. It is a most iniquitous proceeding to put political disability, even by indirection, upon any citizen because of his religious belief. Least of all should we Jews be a party to such a proceeding. We have suffered too much from political and civic proscription to have any sympathy with it. That a man's citizenship is necessarily qualified by his religion is a most dangerous doctrine to teach. Besides it being not at all likely that any political party, for some years to come at least, is going to present a Roman Catholic as its nominee for the Presidency, the question of the loyalty of such a candidate is purely speculative and its discussion can profitably be postponed until an absolute need for it shall have arisen."

ANSWERS CRAPSEY.

The Rev. Father Lambert, the able editor of the Freeman's Journal, replying to Rev. Dr. Crapsey on the attitude of the Catholic church in relation to astronomy, exposes the fallacies and sophisms of the latter and disposes of him with the following:

"What faith can be had in a science that is forever readjusting or throwing aside its latest conclusions, as astronomy has been doing during the past centuries? Is not the experience of astronomical science like that of the fabled Sisyphus who was condemned to roll an immense boulder from the bottom to the summit of a hill, which whenever it reached the top rolled down again, and the task of Sisyphus had to be begun anew? The physical sciences toil wearily up the hill, but when near the summit and ready to deposit their burden of information there, some new discovery hurls them to the bottom where the upward toll must begin again. It was thus that the discovery of the Roentgen rays led to the bottom of the indestructible atom of the science of chemistry.

"The word 'science' is a shibboleth of frequent use, a word of 'damnable iteration,' as Falstaff would call it, among the flippant and superficial gong-men of science. Science teaches this, that and the other; that ends it. Well, what did science teach yesterday and the day before, and the day before that? Its contradictory teachings can not all be true; experience demonstrates that it is not infallible. From its very nature its latest affirmations are not ultimate; any moment some new discovery may cast them to the wind, like dead leaves in autumn. The inefficiency of science as the ultimate criterion of the truths and facts of nature arises from the incompleteness of experience and the hasty and unjustified conclusions of scientists, and the credulous confidence with which they ride an assumption, or an hypothesis as a hobby, until they finally lapse into the conviction that it is demonstrated. Thus they ride from the assumption of a thing to an assumption of its verification; failing to observe that an assumption remains an assumption until it is demonstrated to be a truth."

Press reports from Oklahoma City, where the National Bill Posters' Association is in session this week, say that the board issued an order forbidding members of the association to post nude pictures such as are used to advertise union suits and corsets. The pictures decry by the billposters are not nearly so immodest as many one sees on local bill-boards advertising variety shows and patent medicines.

An exchange says: "If women of the world would devote to their souls one-half the care they lavish on their coiffures they would look just as well in this life, and might count on astonishing their rivals with a coronet in the next."

Marshall reigns in Indiana and Harmon in Ohio. Two States north of the Ohio river have redeemed themselves from Republican ring rule. On the other side Tennessee has gone body and breeches into the Prohibitionist ranks.

Who will be the next nominee of the Democratic party for President of the United States? Will it be Gov. Judson Harmon, of Ohio, or Thomas Marshall, of Indiana?

The Census Bureau estimates the wealth of the American people at something over $1,310 per capita, half of which consists of land, improved and unimproved.

Shively may be all right for Senator from Indiana, but many Democrats in other States hate to see John W. Kern thrown down.

THE PRIEST'S FINGERS.

A group of travelers returning from their ascension to Vesuvius stopped at an inn by the road. Before taking their meal they wished to wash their hands. The hostess hastened to comply with their request. But as she noticed one among them was a priest, she did not want him to use the towel that had been used by the others. "Please, Father," she said, "give it back to me; it is not meet that the fingers which hold the Body of Jesus Christ be wiped with this coarse linen." Upon this quickly she went to the cupboard, whence she brought a piece of fine embroidered muslin, which she tendered to her priestly guest. The foregoing incident, related in Emmanuel, recalls the action of one of the saints, St. Theresa, if we remember rightly, who when a priest desired to wash his hands brought him a basin of perfumed water, giving the self-same reason for her act as did the good woman of the Italian inn. Here we have the reason of the Catholic's profound reverence for the person of Christ's minister. Nothing is too good for the priest, because he is an "altar Christ." "I like to shake the hand of a good priest," said a gentleman recently. "Whenever my hand feels the clasp of the priestly fingers I experience a strange thrill of mingled awe and pleasure. It seems to me that as virtue emanated from the Divine Person of the master as He walked among men purifying, healing and strengthening, so must his worthy servant diffuse something of his subtle influence as he trends his daily way among the multitude. However it is with others, there is more to me in the handshake of a priest than in that of other men, and I always feel better afterward."

SLICK DAYLIGHT THEFT.

One of the boldest daylight thefts that has come to the attention of the Covington police department for some time was reported last Saturday morning. An unknown man with a book of the Adams Express Company told the Sister answering the door bell at the Academy of the Sisters of Notre Dame, on East Fifth street, that he had a crate of turkeys on the wagon for the institution. In the meantime the Sister informed him that she had no idea who could have sent the turkeys and he informed her that they were from a party named Manning. As there is a pupil of that name in the institution, the Sister was of the opinion that her folks had sent them. Going after the money for which to pay the express charges and holding $2 in her hands, the Sister wanted to know where the crate of turkeys were. The stranger told her they were on the wagon, and grabbing the $2 hastily made his escape.

And Varied Were the Gifts Showered on Pius X.
Last Year.

Artisans, Parish Priests and Potentates Gave of Their Stores.

Praised and Blessed People of Ireland For Many Tokens of Love.

ONLY TWO RULERS NEGLIGENT

Emperors, Kings and the chief rulers of many republics have vied with the artisan and the village priest in congratulating the simple old man who sits in the chair of St. Peter on the fiftieth anniversary of his celebration of his first mass, says a Rome correspondent of one of the great New York dailies.

The other day, surrounded by his court and the small Papal army, Pius X. went in procession to the geographical map room of the Vatican to open an exhibition of the present he has received during the year. Hardly an envoy or a deputation or a pilgrimage has been received by the Pope since the beginning of the year that has not brought some material offering to emphasize good wishes. Many gifts have arrived from the uttermost parts of the earth, sent by small congregations unable to quit their daily toil to present them in person.
Special envoys despatched by powerful monarchs have brought costly presents in the names of their sovereigns.

The house of Hapsburg, as befits the ewe lamb of the Vatican, heads the list. Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria sent by his special envoy, Prince Carl of Schwarzenburg, a magnificent cross supposed to be made from a portion of the original cross and surrounded by fifty large diamonds and seventy rubies. The Emperor of Germany, always reverent toward the Papacy, sent by his messengers a massive chiselled gold seal with the Papal arms carved on a large bloodstone. King Alfonso of Spain, who through one of the children of the church, has not yet visited the Vatican since his accession, chose from the treasures of the Escorial a splendid Oriental carpet of unique design, which in the future will cover the floor of the Vatican library.

King Manuel of Portugal presented a large silver vase, decorated with cupids and flowers, which Pius X. declared worthy to be placed beside the masterpieces of Benvenuto Cellini. The College of Cardinals combined to make a large present of Peter's Pence, which amounted to nearly $20,000. The priests and superiors of the Papal household presented a fine specimen of Persian carpet ware specially ordered from the Orient.

The gifts of the Irish parishes particularly pleased the Pope. They include large numbers of pieces of fine Irish lace, some made as vestments and others for trimming altar cloths, etc. In admiring and commenting on these, Pius X. called to mind the early converts in Ireland and the continued faithfulness of the Irish to the Roman Catholic church, and in sending a special blessing through Cardinal Logue he said:
"These children have always been among the faithful to the church, and even to me, though I have never known them, they send these beautiful offerings."

The present Pope was always beloved among his rectorors and dioc-esans when Patriarch of Venice.
Therefore he was specially gratified when they visited Rome en masse a few weeks ago and presented him with a goodly sum of Peter's Pence.
Several bore gifts from his former parishes. One old woman who had been befriended by the Pope years ago when he was Bishop of Treviso sent him a large cheese of her own making. Some peasants from a district of the Campagna where the Pope had caused the church to be rebuilt brought him in a splendid selection of fruit, and an admirer in Sicily sent him a case of old wine.

The number of chalices, crosses and reliquaries which have been sent to the Pope in the last twelve-month is innumerable. The women of England, Ireland and Scotland alone sent 362, which were presented to the Pontiff in person by the Duchess of Norfolk as their representative.
North America contributed many more. The Knights of the Holy Sepulchre gave the Pope a number of portable altars, each complete with the proper vessels.

Pius X. does not mean that these beautiful and at the same time useful gifts shall be hidden in the Vatican, useless and unseen. They will be divided among the poorer parishes which can not afford to provide good ones. The priests of the Roman Campagna, where the population is sparse and poor, will be particularly looked after.

It develops that King Edward VII. of England and Theodore Roosevelt, President of the United States, are the only rulers of civilized countries who have not at least sent their congratulations to His Holiness on the occasion of his golden sacerdotal jubilee.

CARDINAL INVITED.

Cardinal Gibbons has been invited by President Roosevelt to speak at the celebration of Abraham Lincoln's centenary on February 12. The celebration will be held in Larnie county. He will probably accept the invitation.

AD FOR FALLEN.

The Paulist Fathers of Chicago have founded a society for the aid of women and girl prisoners, irrespective of race or creed. The Rev. Father Richard S. Cartwright, C. S. P., formerly of Dorchester, Mass., is the founder of the society.

WHAT IT IS.

In an editorial on the subject, the Tablet of Brooklyn thus defined the Catholic press:

The Catholic press is:
An eternal bond of unity.
A channel of communication between the Bishops and clergy and the faithful people.

The builder of Catholic thought and Catholic opinion on every question affecting Catholic interests.
An organ of appeal and defence.
The readiest exponent and defender of the church's doctrines and practices.

The medium of warning against dangers to faith and morals.
The voice that summons the Catholic people to protect their rights.
The mirror of Catholic life.

The powerful auxiliary of the pulpit and the complement of the parish school.

The consecration of the great modern invention to the service of the church.

The antidote to the poison of the secular press.

The destroyer of non-Catholic calumnies and prejudices.

The blessing of clean, wholesome, Christian reading for the home.

DIED IN JEFFERSONVILLE.

John Gleason, a repeated resident of Jeffersonville, died at the home of his brother, Thomas Gleason, 808 West Front street, Friday afternoon of last week, and the funeral took place from St. Augustine's church Monday morning. The deceased was about 60 years old, and death resulted from consumption, which followed an attack of pneumonia. The remains were interred in St. John's cemetery, Louisville. Two sisters, Mrs. Andrew Kimmick and Miss Mary Gleason, and three brothers, Thomas, Robert and Patrick Gleason, all residents of Jeffersonville, survive him.

RUMORS OF CHANGES.

It is current in American ecclesiastical circles that Monsignor Falconio, the Apostolic Delegate, is soon to return to Rome to be given higher honors, presumably the red hat of a Cardinal. The same rumor has it that Monsignor Aversa, Apostolic Delegate to Cuba and Porto Rico, will be the successor to Monsignor Falconio as Delegate to the United States.

FOR CHURCH AND SCHOOL.

The people of Highland Park and their friends throughout the city are preparing to give a grand euchre at Zeller's Hall, Shelby and Roselane streets, on the afternoon and evening of Thursday, February 4, for the benefit of St. Leo's church and school. Many handsome prizes have been donated. Tickets are being sold for twenty-five cents. The afternoon game will be called at 2 o'clock and the evening game at 8 o'clock.

HOME FROM ROME.

Louis, arrived in New York City last Saturday from Ireland, where he visited relatives after his departure from Rome, where he spent several weeks. The Archbishop was granted special and several conferences with Pius X., to whom he reported several subjects, including the Catholic census of this country.

NOTRE DAME LEADS.

The Notre Dame University basket ball team arrived home last week from its extensive Southern trip, taken during the Christmas holidays.
The showing was excellent, the five winning fourteen out of sixteen games, although they bumped up against strong teams and continually were on the road. As in studies, Notre Dame leads in athletics.

wide repute, and the committee will take immediate steps to secure Father Eugene's services.

Have Historical Interest in Our Beautiful National Capital

City

More Than Two Centuries Ago the City of Rome Was Planned.

Site of the Government Buildings
Was Purchased From a Carroll.

SOME DATA OF GREAT INTEREST

It may be worth while for Catholics, at least American Catholics, to know that their forbears had a part in planning the city of Washington.
It is a historical fact that in 1663, or more than a century before the Revolutionary war, that the site upon which the city of Washington now stands was laid out on a paper by the followers of Lord Baltimore, and was called Rome. A gentleman named Pope owned the soil, and a stream called the Tiber flowed through the tract. The Tiber is now covered up and is part of the sewer system of Washington, but one of its main springs furnishes all the drinking water used at the White House.
Daniel Carroll, a Catholic and a relative of the first Bishop of Baltimore, owned the land later, and at the time that the City of Washington was being built was a great friend of George Washington.

Daniel Carroll was born in Prince George county, Maryland, in 1756. He was a large land owner, and followed farming for an occupation. He was a delegate from Maryland to the Continental Congress which sat from 1780 to 1784, and later was a member of the convention which framed the constitution of the United States.
As a member of the first Congress of the United States, to which he was elected as a Federalist, he took an active part in securing the seat of the Government in Maryland, and in 1791 was appointed by Washington one of the Commissioners to locate the District of Columbia and the Federal city.

In the fall of 1791 he met Washington one day by appointment at Suter's Tavern in Georgetown, and the two rode on "milk-white" horses over the ground of the proposed city.
President Washington accompanied Carroll to his home on the Corn Abbey Manor farm, and "stayed all night." The whole of the next day was spent in consulting and planning, and it is said that on that occasion it was definitely decided where the capitol should be located.

It would appear therefore that a Catholic had a voice in the location of the capitol and District of Columbia, and owned the land of the site; another Catholic planned the streets, avenues and sites for public buildings, while still another Catholic ceded the land on which was to be erected the future home of the Presidents of the United States.

In 1800 Washington was a city of anticipation; its site was little better than a wilderness. A sketch of Washington in embryo, compiled from rare historical researches of Dr. Joseph M. Toner, prior to 1792, was published in 1898. This map was made before the survey by Peter Charles L'Efant, the French engineer officer selected by Washington to lay out a plan for the future city. David Burns, a member of Father McCaffrey's parish, which in 1794 became St. Patrick's, owned the land on which the White House now stands. Daniel Carroll was the owner of Corn Abbey Manor, a plantation of about 600 acres, located on Capitol Hill, and running from there to the Potomac river, "Pawtawmack" as it was then called. On his property was erected the Capitol of the United States, and in more recent years the Congressional Library and other public buildings. The wing of the Capitol occupied by the House of Representatives was formerly the site of the manor house, the residence of Daniel Carroll, the largest room of which was used as a chapel, and the spot where then stood the altar is, according to the chart, very near the desk of the Speaker.

The act to locate the seat of the national Government on the Potomac was passed by Congress and approved July 15, 1790. Prior to that date the seat of the Government had been a movable body. After the battle of Brandywine, September 11, 1777, Congress was removed from Philadelphia to Bristol; then to Baltimore; then to York, Pa., and from there successively to Princeton, Trenton, New York and Annapolis. By the terms of the act the seat of the Government was to remain in Philadelphia for ten years, after which it was to be located permanently in Washington.

In 1800 the population of Washington was about 3,000, most of whom were workmen employed on the public buildings. Total number of houses 372—109 of brick and 263 of frame. The population of the whole District including Georgetown and Alexandria was 14,000.

CHEERFULNESS.

There is scarcely an evil in life which we can not double by pondering upon it; a scratch will thus become a serious wound, and a slight illness be made to end in death by the brooding apprehensions of the sick. On the other hand, a mind accustomed to look upon the bright side of all things will repel the mildew and dampness of care by its genial sunshine. A cheerful heart paints the world as it sees it, like a sunny landscape; the morbid mind depicts it like a sterile wilderness; and thus life, like the chameleon, takes its shade from the soil upon which it rests. Cheerfulness keeps up a perpetual serenity, and is in itself an offshoot of goodness.

Old blue is one of the latest dyes for afternoon toilettes, and it is made effective with black embroidery.

"QUICK MEAL" GAS RANGES.

For many years the "Quick Meal" has been universally acknowledged as the best gas range in the market. They cook quickly, bake excellently and on account of their patent air burners consume less gas than any other. They are more easily cleaned and are made to last. The new improvements this year will keep it in the front rank. Having made our

HIBERNIANS.

What They Have Been Doing
the Past Week—General News Notes.

Division 1 will give the County Board a hearty greeting Tuesday night.

The County Board will take up the question of the observance of St.
Patrick's day at the next meeting.

Division 1 of Memphis met Wednesday night, installed officers and made the initial preparations for the celebration of St. Patrick's day.

Division 1 meets Tuesday night, and as several questions of importance are to be decided the officers urge all the members to attend.

Division 1 of Jeffersonville meets next Tuesday night, when final action will be taken on the celebration of the feast of St. Patrick, March 17.

Owing to increased business engagements Lawrence Mackey, who is now a full fledged attorney, has been compelled to resign as Recording Secretary of Division 3.

Division 3 had a fine attendance at its meeting last week. President Sullivan announced the committees for 1909, which are the same as those of the year just closed.

Much enthusiasm was manifested at the meeting of the Minnesota Hibernian Insurance Fund officers held last week, and the belief was expressed that with the new rates the order will grow in popularity.

Wednesday night the Ladies' Auxiliary will have much business to transact, and Miss Rose Sweeney requests the presence of all the members. It has been hinted that there is a surprise in store for this meeting.

Hibernians in the Falls Cities were greatly alarmed when they heard that genial Barney Coll, one of the most popular members in the order, was stricken and had to be removed to his home in Jeffersonville on Friday of last week.

Division 2 of Chicago will hold its St. Patrick's day reception and ball on February 20, for the reason that it is the last Saturday before Lent, and still more important it is the anniversary of the birth of the Apostle of Ireland.

Division 4 still continues to lead in membership, but a determined effort will be made by Divisions 1 and 3 to acquire this proud position before another year rolls round. President Hennessy says he has no fear of the result of a contest.

Division 2 held its first meeting of the new year last night. President Ford and all the officers being present. Plans for an active membership campaign were outlined, and it is the hope of the members to double their number before this time next year.

All Hibernians are invited to the meeting of Division 3 next Thursday night, which will close with a social session and an abundance of refreshments. This division has a reputation for events of this kind, and those who attend are certain to spend an enjoyable evening.

President E. J. Welsh has called the County Board to meet Tuesday night at the hall of Division 1. This will be the first meeting of the body this year and the presence of every delegate is requested. In addition to the regular business plans for the celebration of St. Patrick's day will be discussed. It is not thought there will be any change in the religious observance from that of recent years.

TRINITY COUNCIL

Is Arranging For Bazar
and Other Interesting Events.

Bad weather had no terrors for the members of Trinity Council last Monday night, and President James B. Kelly complimented them on their punctual attendance. Three applications were received, and it was announced that an initiation would be held next Monday night. A euchere and dance will be given next Thursday night, with Val Lotli, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee.

A meeting of the various committees and the ladies who are assisting in getting up the bazar will be held at Trinity's club house tomorrow afternoon, when final arrangements for this great event will be made.
Quite a number of handsome prizes have been secured, and a lively interest has been aroused over the contest among the ladies who are selling tickets.

Trinity has arranged for a series of lectures to be given from the present time until after Lent. These lectures will be given by the members of the council, and promise to be quite interesting.

the office of the Louisville Times, where he is employed as proofreader.
Six ribs were broken, and one of them punctured his lung. He is sixty-six years old, and his advanced age makes his recovery doubtful. His two sons, Drs. Matt and Sam Stanley, are distressed over their father's condition.

Mr. Stanley is now serving his third term as President of the local Typographical Union, and has been with the Courier-Journal and Times for thirty years. Every union printer in Louisville and many scattered abroad are sorry that Mr.
Stanley has met with such a serious accident, and all hope for his speedy recovery.

ports of officers showed that the organization was financially sound and the orphans well kept.

It was the sixty-sixth annual meet-
